Ommittee Last Night.

The Committee on Relief of the Poormet at the City Almshouse last night in regular monthly and quarterly session. Little business of importance, except the awarding of contracts for supplies, ensued the attention of the committee. Superintendent Davis reported that the number of inmates on June 39th was 201 that 50 were received during July; 31 that 50 were received during July; 31 that 50 were received during July; 31 the hospital there were 68 patients under treatment on June 39th; 32 were received during July; 46 discharged; 11 died, 51 frem last year, 18 frem last year, 18 frem last year, 19 from last year, ties, and finally turned over on its side, giving the eight or ten passengers a scare and bruising several of them somewhat. There were on the car a lady and two children, names unknown; Taylor Wilson and John Burnette, both of Richmond, and one other, besides five or six men on the plattorm.

After joiling over the rails for fifty or a hundred yards, the rear car fell over or, its side and dragged the car in front off the rails, but did not turn it over. There was considerable excitement among those on the car, but fortunately none were seriously hurt. Taylor Wilson had a wrist sprained and sustained several painful bruises as the car went over. A child was bruired somewhat. The other passengers in the car held to the seats and escaped by jumping before the car was overturned.

A trainman, who had his collar-bone broken, was the most seriously injured and his hurts are not at all dangerous. It is supposed that the car Junped the track at a frog in the yard

NOVEL ACT ON THE BILL

The Great De Van Engaged as a Special Feature of the Exhibition. Some Clever Local Talent.

The circus fever has made itself mant fest among the hundred or more performers who are to take part in the big show to be given at the Horse Show building next Saturday week. There is a fascination about the sawdust ring that those who appeared in the circus two years ago at the Auditorium are inpatiently awaiting another opportunity of sniffing the sawdust.

Captain Frank Cunningham, who made auch an admirable ringmaster upon his first appearance in the arona, will again step into the ring, feeling this time almost like a veteran in the business.

There will be more horses and pointer the same points exhibited than was the case at the show two years ago, as the facilities are better, of course, at the Horse Show building than they were at the Auditorium.

Superintendent W. H. Thompson has charge of this part of the programme. Lonnie Wilson, who has had several years' experience as a performer under tho white tents, will have charge of the clowns. Wilkle Freeman is the latest addition to the array of talent secured to don the garb of the clown, and make merry.

don the garb of the clown, and make merry.

THE GREAT DE VAN.

The sensational feature of the performance will be the serial act of the great De Van. This net was secured specially for the show. De Van has astonished audiences all over this country and Europe by his daring feats, which he calls "The Death Dofying Heel Swip!"

CLEVER AMATEURS.

Messrs. Kindervater and Payne, two Richmond boys, who could long ago have entered the professional ranks, had they so chosen, will do a "brother" act, yery similar to that of the Rexfords, with which it has often been compared.
Clinton Boyd, well known among college circles and a leader of the younger social element, will give an exhibition of wire walking that is as clever as most professional acts of its kind. Mazoppa, the wonderful Jap, will by seen in a sensational exhibition of rope walking.

Jack Sale, known as the King of Clubs, will present one of the feature acts. Mr.
Henry Taylor, who covered himself with flory at the last circus, will again give an exhibition of bareback riding, known in the vernacular of the business as a "principal riding act."

Professor Frank Cosby will pose statuary, an act that will be one of the preitiest of the performances.

To give the entire programme would be quite a task and only some of the principal acts have been mentioned. There are, all told, about onb hundred performers, including more than a score of clowns. The inter are all well known professional and business men of Richmond, who will endoy appearing in a new role, as much as the audience will enlow witnessing their antics.

Two performances are to be given next Saturday week, the matinee exhibition commencing at 8 o'clock and that of the evening at 8:30.

THE ASHBURN POISONING Seventy-five People Desperately Sick at

One Time.

One Time.

The following graphic account of the wholesale poisoning at Senator Stewayt's farm, near Ashburn, in Loudoun county, was sent by a physician, who was on the scene:

On the 13th of August, in the castern portion of Loudoun county, Va., a sale was held on Senator Stewart's farm, one mile from Ashburn, Va., for the purpose of selling out all parapherbuilla complete along line of carrying on first-class dairy, I presume one of the largest institutions of its kind in the South.

The sale started promptly at 10 o'clock.

South.

The sale started promptly at 10 o'clock, and after selling about 100 fine cows, the Senator invited all to lunch, and beef sandwiches, which were served to a crowd of 150 men; men from all over Loudoun and adjoining counties, also good many from adjoining States. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Walter Wrenn of Sterling, Va., was taken very Ill, and immediately summoned Dr. Z. L. Weaver, of Sterling, Va., who insmediately found Mr. Wrenn and many others with their countenances loaded with death, and then and there hay nearly one hundred men just in the same condition. Every physician fifteen miles square, had been rung up, and by 5 o'clock in the woods tying northenst of Senator Stewart's residence, lay in these woods approximated 100 men, and three-fourths of these were wrestling for life. By this time, Drs. Ituseoli and Detwilor, of Herndon, had arrived. Dr. Jones, of Ashburn, and Dr. Z. Leonidas Weaver, of Sterling.

These men lost no time trying to revive the unfortunate, and by 7 P. M. Sepator Stewart had opened all the doors in his beautiful residence for the comfort of the sick. Every subject showed liat bacteria was playing a desperate part, to say whether or not this condition was brought about by putrefaction of phomenes or toxennia existing in the sandwiches. It should be looked into by the State Board of Health in the State of Virginia. It is thought to-night every man will live, though at one time last evening, we saw but little hope for Jim Wrenn and brother, from Lynchburg, and Z. W. Dulick, of Hildie, Va. The scene was one to be remembered, and every citizen should hold in mind the sanitary condition existing. Were it not, for purging and womiting, the cause would have slayed a greater majority of these men. It is boileved by many of the best citizens of Loudour county, that something of a narcotic character, other than the supposed eatables were used.

The vount and many sandwiches have been sent to Washington to be examined by District experts.

Question in Conference.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 17.—
Representatives of a number of southern and southwestern railroads met help today for a consultation with their general counsel. Edward Baxter, of Nashville, Tenn., and to consider conditions arising as a result of the operations of the Elkins anti-rebate and other laws relating to interstate commerce. The discussion was ontirely on legal matters, and, it is attack, was not of general public interest. Not thing was accomplished at to-day's meeting because of the absence of officials of a number of railroads whose presence was necessary in order that any definite action might be taken. The gathering adjourned to meet in New York Beptember 30th.

Among those present were: Joseph Richardson, the chairman of the Southeastern Passenger Association, who presided at the meetings; J. M. Culp, W. A. Turk and S. H. Hardwick, of the Southearn; W. J. Craig, of the Atlantic Coast Line; W. L. Daley, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, and A. H. Hanson, of the Illinois Central, and C. L. Blone, of the Louisville and Nashville.

Tillman the Man.

When a Southern man, pretending to speak for the South goes through the West and North making speeches for $100 or $200 a night, and says there will be war unless the Fifteenth amendment is repealed, we hope the people of the West and North will fully realize that he is disgracing the intelligence of the South and is not speaking for this people. If the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments are repealed it will be done by winning the North and West to the views of the South that pursued by a sofish blatherskite who would ruin all creation for the sake of personal notoriety and success.—Columbia State.

The Stinging Truth. We are almost sorry for that Georgia Solon who wanted newspaper reporters excluded from the House, because, as he expressed it. Whenever I say anything I am made to appear as a d-d fool next morning. He is not the first or only man to be placed in that position by having his remarks accurately reported,—Montgomery Advertiser.
